PANELISTS

Amy Barnes, BS, RN, 2017 NSM Rosalie Mirenda Education Award

~ Amy is a Nurse Leader on a 49 bed adult psychiatric unit at Parkview Behavioral Health in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Amy earned her Bachelor of Science degree in nursing and a minor in psychology from IPFW. Amy was introduced to the NSM as a nursing student by Sarah Beckman, and under Professor Beckman's tutelage has had opportunities to present NSM focused projects at the 2015 NSM Symposium in Philadelphia, PA, 2015 Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing Conference in Las Vegas, NV and the 2015 Xi Nu-at Large Research Symposium in Fort Wayne, IN. Amy was invited to share her senior quality improvement project in chapter 1 of The Neuman Systems Model: Celebrating Academic-Practice Partnerships by Beckman and Fawcett. In 2017, Amy received a NSM Rosalie Mirenda Education Award while attending the 2017 NSM Symposium in Utrecht, Netherlands. Amy continues to grow in appreciation for and in application of the NSM in her professional practice.

Ferdy Pluck, RN, MANP, 2017 NSM Rosalie Mirenda Education Award

~ Ferdy works as a Nurse Practitioner in mental health in the Netherlands in diverse settings and different levels in education. He started his career as a nursing aid, continued his education as a diploma nurse and then acquired a Bachelor in Nursing Degree. After getting a Master in Advanced Nursing Practice he now is writing his PHD proposal. He specialized in long-term psychiatric care, care for the elderly with psychiatric disorders and challenging behavior, a demanding practice in the care for asylum seekers and teaching the students of the Clinical Specialist in Psychiatric Care. Ferdy was introduced to NSM by Marlou de Kuiper during his Master in Advanced Nursing Practice where he used the NSM as a guiding theory in his thesis. In 2017 he was awarded the NSM Rosalie Mirenda Education award. Ferdy was a contributor to Chapter 3 (Collaboration and Teamwork) in Beckman & Fawcett (2017), detailing his work with asylum seekers.

Dawn Pla, BS, RN ~

Dawn has been a bedside nurse and informal educator on a busy med/surg/telemetry unit at Dupont Hospital for ten years. Prior to this time, she worked in the Cardiovascular Intensive Care Unit at Lutheran Hospital. She received both her Associate and Bachelor degrees in Nursing from IPFW in 2002 and 2013, respectively. While at IPFW, she had the pleasure of having Sarah Beckman as her instructor who introduced her to the Neuman Systems Model. Upon graduating with her Baccalaureate degree, she worked for three years as a teaching assistant in the senior Leadership in Nursing course with Sarah. Dawn authored an essay on Quality Improvement in Beckman & Fawcett (2017) sharing her journey using the NSM and supporting many students after graduation.

Edna Salazar, BS, RN ~

Edna earned her Associate degree in Nursing from Arizona Western College. After returning to Fort Wayne she went on to earn her Baccalaureate degree from the IPFW RN-BS program. She currently works in the Emergency Department at Parkview Huntington Hospital, where she has been active with the Nursing Clinical Action Team. Edna became acquainted with NSM in her RN-BS program. During her Capstone course Edna used the Model to self-assess her stressors and create a tailored improvement plan, which included reflection on her created environment.

Stephani Schultz, BS, RN, CMSRN ~

Stephani has been a bedside nurse for 9 years and presently works in the Operating Room at Parkview Regional Medical Center. She is an advocate for patients within and beyond her employment as an RN, and actively participates in Quality Improvement and social policy efforts. Stephani earned her Baccalaureate degree from the IPFW RN-BS program, and was introduced to NSM through her Leadership and Capstone courses. Stephani used NSM to complete a self-assessment of stressors and develop an action plan for improvement, including a reflection on created environment.
